less, it is said, than on this occasion twelve months ago. On Friday there was another slump, while on Saturday, in spite of the fact that about 22,000 persons paid the high prices, there was also a falling off. Should this state of affairs continue throughout the rest of the meeting, the Brooklyn Jockey (lab, it is said, will take a firm stand in favor

f the old prices.
It is maintained by friends of the Gravesend track that had there been no increase in prices the Brooklyn Jockey Club would have taken in more money from the public during the present meeting than ever before, and that the loss of a revenue of $7,000 a day from the bookmakers would not have caused unusual anxiety. But with a falling off in unusual anxiety. But with a raining off in receipts under the present circumstances, instead of an increase, coupled necessarily with smaller crowds, it is set forth by some persons that the raising of the tariff has been a blunder, unless within the next week or so the public becomes educated to the new prices and racegoers return to the track with the former liberal patronage. Nobody for a moment believes that, under the present le of prices and patronage displayed so far, the Brooklyn Jockey Club will lose money on the year, but it is safe to say that the dividends will not be so large. In placing the falling off in receipts on Brooklyn Handicap day at $16,000. The Sun's informant yes-terday said that the bookmakers' former fees ere not taken into consideration, so that, f such was really the case, the track owners were shy about $32,000 of what they received on this day a year ago.

While P. J. Dwyer, the president of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, is said to have op-posed the change in prices from the start, he has not as yet expressed an opinion as to the result of the new plan. But among turfmen there is a rumor that Mr. Dwyer is ready to pronounce the scheme a failure. Meanwhile there is a story current that the bookmakers are still willing to pay the usual fees to the track owners, but would be open to a suggestion that would cover the toll under some other form. While the Jockey Club has already severed all relations with the books in this respect, the layers, according to report, are thinking of making a suggestion to some of the track managers that he amount of two or three purses hung up or horsemen could be made up by a method of private subscription which in the long run would be of much benefit to the tracks. From what The Sun has been able to glean, a subscription of this kind could be paid at lineted with the assistance of the gambling lement.

Another reason for the change in policy, is outlined by well posted men, is the expressed intention of James Butler, the owner of the Empire City track, to test the legality of the law which gives to the State Racing Commission absolute power to grant or related the control of the Empire City track, to test the legality of the law which gives to the State Racing Commission absolute power to grant or related to the control of the

among the track owners and those members of the Jockey Club who have the welfare of racing at heart.

The Western invasion of the Eastern tracks has begun in earnest. Many new horses will be seen here within the next few weeks while some of the most liberal speculators will be on hand. While nobody has been singled out yet for scrutiny, it is safe to assert that the stewards will keep their eyes open. Western turfmen, or rather some of them, are generally credited with being able to pull off slick coups in which scruples do not cut much of a figure at times, so that the performances of horses owned by certain persons whose methods may excite comment perhaps will probably be closely watched. So far the racing on the local tracks has been remarkably free from scandal. The erratic sport at Belmont Park was senerally attributed to the newness of the track and the reverse way of running the races. But at the other tracks there have been comparatively few cases that warranted suspicion. The stewards are not asleep and the public's welfare seems to be welf cared for. The only fault found recently has been with the starting, but Mars Cassidy, it must be remembered, has had unusually big fields to handle. It is not an easy matter to get fifteen or twenty horses away to an even break especially if there are a number of habitual bad actors in the lunch. Mr Cassidy's work has shown improvement and the method of sending the horses away as ordered by the Jockey Club, but many horsemen are still inclined to be natient.

ROWING.

Harlem Crews Prepare for To-morrow's Regatta-Visitors Practise.

The Harlem oarsmen, especially those who are to engage in to-morrow's regatta were on edge yesterday and with practise spins, and other preparations they had a busy time. All day long a big fleet worked on the Speedway course and it was liberally sprinkled with the visitors from outlying districts. Among the early arrivals were the junior eight of the New York A. C. and their work chiefly consisted of short dashes and starting practise under the direction of Coach Giannini. They sat as they will row to-morrow: A. L. Thomson, bow; J. S. Ander-son, 2: P. If. Birch, Jr., 3: A. A. Stewart, 4: the end of a certain number of days, the book-makers being assessed a certain sum on a 7: J. Nesbitt, stroke, and Douglas G. Smyth, percentage plan based upon the amount of business handled by each of them during the senior sculls, brought along his shell and preentage pian based upon the amount of business handled by each of them during the specified time. The bookmakers who have that they made upon the sport of the mediane specified time. The bookmakers who have acting in the capacity of voluntary contributors to the welfare of the owners of racehorses and that such donations could not be ascribed as the basis for legal proceedings involving the direct connection of the track owners with the betting ring, which were threatened when stated fees were paid over each day for badges and privileges.

It cannot be said just now whether the track owners would regard such a proposition with favor, but under the present criseminate even indirect would be avoided, if only make rating from any kind of attacks that might be made upon the sport. There is no doubt that the action of the track owners made the made upon the sport. There is no doubt that the action of the track owners in refusing to accept further daily fees from the ring disarmed certain persons who had planned to make serious trouble. The fact that no warrants for the arrest of bookmakers at Gravesend have been applied for as yet be be Lacy or others is taken to mean than owners and the proposition when the proposition is the proposition of the track owners that be received some sort of a tip that unless the received some sort of a tip that unless revenue from the betting ring was cut off there would be a bill introduced in the Legisature next winter which would advocate the closing of the tracks and would also receive that single proposition is now what the manufacture is the proposition of the proposition of the proposition of the proposition bettor, will be replaced by the Governor for this reason alone. Realizing that it might be a difficult matter to offset a general crusade at Albany under the old rexime, it is stated on good authority that the Jockey CIGb was virtually compelled to take action in order to prove conducted with the assistance of the gambling sement.

Another than the action of the prove cond Metropolitans. Thomas, the sculler, from the Clifton B. C., was at the same place. Coach Johnny Smith of the Nassaus took out his crews for a little schooling, and it is expected that the senior eight will give Columbia a tough battle for the honors.

The regatta committee announced yesterday that the early races would be rowed upstream, and when the tide changed, about 2 o'clock, the remainder of the races on the program would be rowed down stream. With the exception of the junior single sculls there will be no trial heats. Six men have entered this event and James Pilkington, who will act as starter, said that it might be possible to run the dix scullers in one heat. All the crews are notified to be on time, and if they are not at the stake boat at the scheduled minute the race will go on without them. The first event is down for 9:30 o'clock and at intervals of half an hour the events will be started.

AUTO HONORS FOR WEBB JAY. -Christie Car Wins.

CHICAGO, May 28. - Webb Jay carried off the honors in yesterday's Chicago automobile race meet at Harlem track, beating out Bar-Oldfield in his noted "Green Dragon" by at least an eighth of a mile in the final heat of the ten mile race. Three cars went in this race, but the third could not keep the hot pace and dropped out before a mile, leaving Oldfield and Jay to fight it out between them. It was a fitting close to a great Fully 10,000 persons crowded the grand stand and stood on the stairs long before the races started and cheered the various drivers as they warmed up their cars. The track was in good shape and there was little wind to stir the dust and the weather conditions were perfect for fast racing.

The New York club carried off the first day's honors in the team race for the Harold F. Thomas trophy, when Walter Christie, with a freak front driving car of his own invention, defeated the Chicago representative, Carl Fisher, by a few feet. Chicago's one hope now lies in to-morrow's race. If that is captured there is still a chance of securing the cup, but if it is won by Major Miller New York will have it for a year at least.

CHAMPIONS ARE HITTING FAR.

EXTRA BASE RAPS MORE THAN 25 PER CENT. OF BATTING.

Bresnahan Actual Leader of New York Nationals-Keeler Heads Americans. with Chase a Poor Second-Stick Work of the Brooklyns and Griffith's Men.

Mathewson got back his lead over McGinnity in the batting averages of the New York Nationals last week and now has a welting status of .417, figures that proclaim him the best hitting pitcher in the National League McGinnity has a total that no one need be ashamed of. His mark is .379. Sammy Strang, pinch hitter par excellence, advanced considerably by safe wallops in the two chances that he had last week and rejoices in the possession of .361. Bresnahan is the real leader of the team, although he is nominally fifth with .347. Donlin is the first of those who have played in every game of the year, being three notches above the triple century mark. Of the entire eighteen men In the champions' squad, one only has not made a hit. He is Elliott, who pitched in but one game. Ames made just one bingle, but as it won a game for him it was a nice thing to have done.

Donlin's extra base hitting is worthy of comment. With three home runs, five triples and seven two baggers, his forty-four hits since the season started represent a total of seventy bases, or twenty-six extra bases. Indeed, the whole champion team seems to have the extra base hitting tendency strongly marked. Out of a total of 317 hits thus far, eighty-five have been over the one sack limit. The proportion is more than 25 percent. The total bases for the season are 450. Devlin's twelve stolen bases represent nearly a quarter of the New Yorks' entire pilferings. In the seven games that Ames has won he has averaged seven strike-outs.

Willie Keeler keeps on getting his bingles for the American Leaguers and improved his average four notches last week. He is the only 300 hitter in the Highlanders' list. Despite the fact that Keeler had to go in at third base in several of the Western games, he has managed to get through to date with three errors. Hal Chase took another leap upward in batting, coming to second place with a batting average of .258, as against .240 last week. Chase made three errors in the week, and every one, unfortunately for him, resulted in heavy gains for the other But he is making good and justifles the judgment of Griffith. Stricklett leads the stick swingers of the Brooklyn team with an even 300. The averages, up to and including last Saturday follows:

The Pittsburgs played ito nearly 50,000 persons in their four games at the Polo Grounds. Pitcher Wiltse of the Champions is not only rack fielder of his position, but he is a very fa worker.

Twice this season the Washingtons have been held down to one hit in a game. One of these games they won.

The scene shifts this week, the New York Nationals departing on a long trip and the Americans returning next Thursday after a storm tossed voyage on western waters.

The New York Nationals have not been shut out as yet, and are the only team in their league that has not fallen into the calcimine. The New York Americans were the last team to be whitewashed in their league.

york Americans were the last team to be whitewashed in their league.

"It's the scrappy, aggressive teams that win pennants," says Joe Kelley. "The Chicagos under Anson, the Bostons with Duffy and McCarthy, the old Baltimores, the Pittsburgs and McCaraw's New Yorks are cases in point, and these are the teams that the people go to see."

Some new things in pads for umpires have been seen about here lately. Bausewine has a black corrugated rubbery looking arrangement that straps around the neck, and McCarthy of the American League sports a folding, split in the middle protector that looks like a mattress.

It is a question whether the spit ball does not get a pitcher into more trouble through wild pitches than it does him good. The Chicago Nationals early in the season won five games because of wild pitches due to using the spit ball.

HIS HORSE, HOPPER GRASS, WIN-NER ON THE SPEEDWAY.

Ida Highwood Takes Two Out of Three Heats From Kingmend-Beinsmer Who Look for Easy Opposition—Brightlight and Ortine in a Good Brush

Heat and showery conditions combined to keep many drivers from the Speedway yesterday morning, yet the sport ranked with the best of the season. A feature to be regretted is that many owners seem to prefer contests against horses which their own clearly outclass. The spectators are quick to notice this and the comments are not com-the best in their class gave the crowd the best contest of the morning, class and speed considered. Claus Bohling, driving the former Speedway champion trotter Kingmond, 2:09, and Nathan Straus's matines winner, Ida Highwood, 2:094, were the starters. Trainer T. J. Sullivan drove Ida Highwood in the first heat, and he rode to victory in a splendid finish with both horses strung out under a drive. Then Mr. Straus took the the iron railing, where Kingmend, under the stimulus of rein and voice, carried the little mare from her stride and won. There was no mistake by either horse in the next heat, and Ida Highwood won by three parts of a length. Later, Ida Highwood won a nice brush from W. M. Jermyn's erratio trotter Mary Joe, carrying her to a break

For genuine fun and the great delight of For genuine fun and the great delight of the crowd, the two brushes between Tom Sharkey's big gaited trotter, Hopper Grass, 2:14%, and Terrence Kennedy's bold going trotter, Teddy K., really headed the list. Teddy K. won the first heat by a head, with both owners working with might and main and the crowd cheering until the cliffs echoed the applause across to the Westchester hills. The second finish was even more exciting Hopper Grass had the lead when he made Hopper Grass had the lead when he made a break almost at the post With the most skilful drive he has yet made on the Speedway, Sharkey had him back on his stride in two jumps, and he won by the tip of his nose. In the opening brush of the morning Percy Gill, driving Lady Direct, 2:15½, beat Isaac Hopper, with Black Belle, twice decisively. Then Mr. Hopper's trainer, Maurice Dunn joined with Bessie Reid and finished in front twice; the trotter Teddy K. being second in the first and the pacer Carrie C. second in the other heat. Black Belle was third in each.

in the first and the pacer Carrie C. second in the other heat. Black Belle was third in each.

John Sheppard of Boston and A. E. Perrin as the guests of Nathan Straus rode behind the rapid gaited trotter Belton, Jr. In one tilt with the New Jersey pacing team Andy Mack and Jimmy Maak, the trotter won. When Mr. Straus reached the drive he sat behind Malacca, 2:18½. In his first start he won from W. M. Jermyn's trotter, Boralma's Brother. Later Malacca won from Dr. H. D. Gill's pacer George Dumond, 2:16½.

The Chicago horseman, S. T. De Lee was another owner that missed his usual number of victories. He drove the pacer Peter Sheldon and missed winning a brush. Lady Direct, 2:15½, beat Peter Sheldon in his first start. Then the Chicago pacer was sent to tackle Henry Phillips's Grand Circuit trotter, James Shevlin, 2:13½, and again he had to accept second place through an unfortunate break. James Shevlin also won a good brush from Philip Heipenhausen's trotter, Nelly Wilkes.

The big trotter Lucelle Epaulet, driven by break. James Sheviin also won a good brush from Philip Heipenhausen's trotter, Nelly Wilkes.

The big trotter Lucelle Epaulet, driven by H. Nickolsburg, showed her first winning form. She won two brushes from H. C. Flogel's bay trotter Gov. McGregor. A newcomer to the drive, the bay pacer. Robert W., 221%, won a number of brushes as long as he was kept in his class. Robert W. beat the Crisis, driven by C. S. Rice, and also wen from A. G. Vermilyea's pacer, Carrie C., with the pacer Tillie D., 2:19%, third. Then Charles Weiland, driving the pacer Mustard, 2:08%, joined, and of course he quite outclassed Robert W. and The Crisis, who finished in the order named. Mustard also won from Samuel Bloch's Bicycle Girl, 2:20%, Later Bicycle Girl redeemed herself byfinishing in front of the pacer Fred W., 2:08%, The latter is high in flesh and not up to his form.

Hewat, 227 Hamilton avenue, Paterson, by this evening will be barred out The tournament will be at the North Jersey Country Club, a very good eighteen hole course, accessible from Paterson by trolley be held by the Women's Metropolitan Goif Association to-day at the Plainfield Country Club and the Philadelphia women have been invited to send entries. It will be the first open event of any sort ever held by the organization, which is better known by the former title of Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, and an augury of a new condition consequent on the increase in class of the members and the material prosperity of the club. There will be an eighteen hole handicap for best Let and gross, in which players may start unti.

1 o'clock, a driving contest at 3 and an approaching and putting match at 4 o'clock.
On Friday, in the Women's M. G. A. tea On Friday, in the women's M. G. A. team series, Englewood will play at Richmond County and Nassau and Apawamis at Dyker Meadow, the neutral course being accepted for its accessibility. On Saturday entries close with Mrs. M. D. Paterson for the one-day tournament of the Englewood Golf Club on June 6. For a change this will be handicap match play against bogey, with an afternoon putting competition.

John Duncan Dunn, who has been in England for three years, is back as professional at the Lake Placid Golf Club.

Nassau and Dyker Meadow play on the Fort Hamilton course on Saturday.

W. L. Gunther, prominent since his schoolboy days in the golfing at Westbrook, Fox Hills, Oakland and Ardsley, will sail on the steamer Satsuma to-morrow morning on a tour of the world. It will be a 9,600 mile trip, with the Mediterranean ports first to be visited and thence to the East by the Suez Canal. Gunther will take his golf clubs on the off chance of obtaining a round on strange links.

Atlantic City golfers are to be attacked from a new quarter. The Eastern Trades Golf Association, which has to thin time held its semi-annual tournaments at Nassau, Garden City or some other course nearby, will have its next competition at the Atlantic City Country Club ou June 12. The tournament will be a side issue to a trade convention to be held that week at Atlantic City, and some of the golfers to attend propose to challenge the seaside team to a match.

In the qualifying round at the Marine and Field Club last Saturday for the Morrison oup, the leading scores were:

O. J. Lawyer, St. 15-73; W. C. Biddle, Jr., 26, 22-74; J. W. Raymond, 81, 12-70; F. B. Hurst, 84, 15-79; B. Hutton, 96, 17-79; J. De Sciden, 38, 30-28; H. Driger, 91, 8-38; J.
